

Free At Last! (Not to Sin, but to Serve God in Righteousness)

Romans 6:15-23

1. Now that we are not under law, but under grace, should we sin? Why or why not?
2. What are the similarities and differences between Romans 6:1 and 6:15?
3. God's grace not only justifies the sinner, but He transforms his life. What would the conclusion be of a life that gives no evidence of moral and spiritual transformation?
4. Verse 17 says that "you became obedient from the heart to that form of teaching to which you were committed." Can you be obedient and not be obedient from the heart? How? What is "that form of teaching" referring to?

5. Paul apologizes for the fact that the "slavery" metaphor breaks down at some point. But he uses "human terms" so their "weak flesh" can understand (v. 19). Slavery to God is not hard like the slavery to sin or to an earthly master. Read Galatians 4:7. What better metaphor is used here to describe this relationship?

6. If a boss that you worked for previously showed up and said he still had work for you to do and you still owed him your allegiance, what would you say? How does this relate to this passage?

7. Read Matthew 6:24. How does this principle apply to people who think they can serve God and sin?

8. If we present our members to impurity and to lawlessness it will result in further lawlessness and ultimately death. Sin certainly has a snowball effect. Describe from your own life or from the life of someone you know how sin has had a snowball effect.

9. The opposite of the sin snowball effect is the sanctification snowball effect. If we present our members as slaves to righteousness it will result in further sanctification. Describe how you can get this snowball rolling.

10. In contrast to the death which sin pays out, God does not pay wages. He owes no man anything. He freely gives the gift of eternal life. How is the gift received for oneself?

11. What will you do this week to ensure that your "members" are instruments to glorify God?
